Air Quality

Carrier VG Series Window Room Air Conditioners have advanced air cleaning systems. Consisting of five types of filter, the air purification system cleanses the air of dust and other airborne particles including harmful germs. It removes traces of odours and traps potentially harmful chemical emissions from ordinary household materials (such as carpets and building materials).

This helps make the air you breathe indoors fresher and cleaner.

Note: Filtration depicted above is not applicable for VF250H-1 model.
